the matter of health on the isthmus. The climate was supposed to be dead-ly, and yellow fever, in especial, was supposed to be epidemic. Yet since we have assumed control there has been far less yellow fever than in our been far less yellow fever than in our dwn country. The administration is steadily becoming better and more effective, from the hygenic as well as from every other standpoint. The work of building the canal is a great American work, in which the whole American people are interested. It has nothing to do with parties or partisanship, and is being carried on with absolute disregard to all merely political considerations; with regard only to efficiency, honesty and econonly to efficiency, honesty and econ-

The digging of the canal, will of course, greatly increase our interest in the Caribbean sea. It will be our duty to police the canal, both in the interest of other nations and in our own interest. To do this it is, of cient navy (and I am happy to say that we are well on our way toward having one) and also to possess, as we already possess, certain strategic points to control the approach to the canal. In addition it is urgently necessary that the insular and continental countries within or bordering on the Caribbean sen should be able to secure fair dealing and orderly liberty within their own borders. I need not say that the United States not only has no purpose of aggression upon any republic, confinental or insular, to the feeling toward them, and desires nothing save their progress and prosperity. We do not wish another foot of ter-ritory; and I think our conduct toward genuine attitude toward all our sister republics. If ever we should have to interfere in the affairs of any of our neighbors it would only be when we found it impossible longer to refrain from doing so without serious damage following; and even in such case it would only be with the sincere purpose to make our interference beneficial to the people concerned. Of course, occupying the position we when we cannot refrain from such interference, save under the penalty of seeing some other strong nation un-dertake the duty which we neglect; and such neglect would be unfortunate from more than one standpoint. Whenever possible we should giadly whenever possible we should gladly give any aid we can to a weaker sister republic which is endeavoring to achieve stability and prosperity. It is an ungenerous thing for us to refuse such aid; and it is foolish not to give it in a way that will make it really effective, and therefore of direct benefit to the contraction. fit to the people concerned—and of in-direct benefit to us, simply because i is a benefit to them. In the last re-sort and only in the last resort ! terfere by exercising what is virtually an international police power, if only to avoid seeing some European power forced to exercise it. In short, while we must interfere always cautiously, and never wantonly; yet, on rare occasions, where the need is great, it may be necessary to interfere, unless we are willing to confess ourselves too feeble for the task we have undertaken, and to taken, and to avow that we are will ing to surrender it into stronger hands; and such confession and avowal I know my countrymen too well to believe that they will ever
